

INVITATION TO EXHIBITORS

The 7th
Underwater Acoustics
Conference & Exhibition (UACE2023)

will be held in Kalamata, Greece
25-30 June 2023

The conference and exhibition is organized in co-operation with CCBS Greece

The 7th Underwater Acoustics Conference & Exhibition (UACE2023) will be held in Kalamata, Greece during the days Sunday 25th through Friday 30th June 2023. The conference venue will be the Filoxenia Kalamata (<https://www.filoxeniakalamata.com/el/index.html>).

The conference will comprise a prominent series of structured oral sessions with invited papers given by leading international scientists. These Structured Sessions will be organized by key persons actively engaged at the forefronts of research in underwater acoustics. In addition, most recent research results will be presented in contributed papers forming the basis for regular oral and poster sessions.

It is a great pleasure for us, on behalf of the Organizing Committee, to invite your company to exhibit your products at the conference.

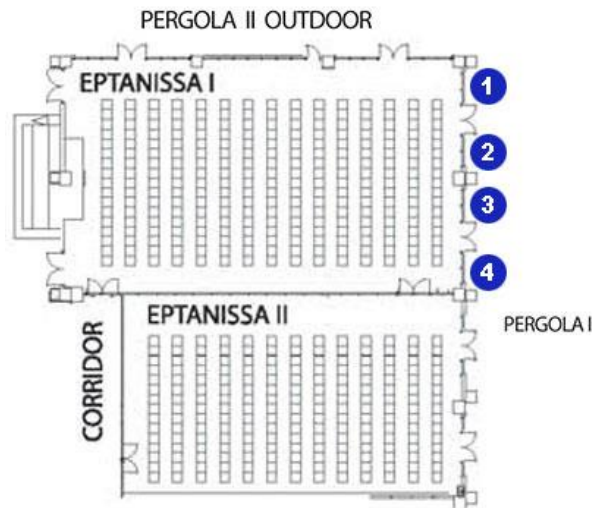

An exhibition by leading international manufacturers of state-of-the-art technologies, equipment and services for underwater acoustic measurements, surveys and control of underwater processes will form an integrated part of the conference and will be arranged in the most central area of the conference space. Since the conference participants include several senior decision makers in exploitation of underwater acoustics as well as top scientists in this area, the exhibition forms a very important opportunity for hardware and software manufacturers and for providers of consulting and scientific services to meet with their customers during the exhibition. Like the conference, the exhibition will focus on an audience representing the civil, the commercial and the military sectors involved with all aspects of underwater acoustic measurements and technologies.

Looking very much forward to meet with you in Kalamata in June 2023.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee

Michael Taroudakis

The exhibition area is located in the same space where coffee and refreshments during breaks will be available and where access to all conference rooms is situated.

- Poster sessions will also be held in the same area. This will give the exhibitors the very best opportunities to make effective contacts with customers from all over the world.
- Each stand will be equipped with one table and two chairs, 220 V electricity and internet connection (wireless). If more tables and chairs are required, please contact the Conference Secretariat. Each stand will be entitled to one free registration, while all other personnel attending the conference must register as regular conference delegates. Exhibitors may attend conference papers provided their stands stay manned. Extra tickets for the social events may be bought at the Registration Desk.

Please note, that all stands are sold according to “first come first”.

Pricelist for stands indicated on the floor plans.
